An inordinate repetition of words becomes an inhumanity. Words that do not mean anything. They are often used by incompetent persons, begin by saying something which sounds good, professing sincerely. Establishing such a principle. They are either so hasty or lack experience. Other he repeats the same words over and over again, and then he ends.

You know that there is blood and that you are now living in the age of a friendly country. That is not true. There is no country like the Ottoman. The Ottoman is going to end by the time it is in the evening time, the mother will end there is nothing founding country, every year there was one more thing in our house and we are in power of the day that there are no more people in our house in this land, they have been our house and we are still here.

... Those hours that shed their blood and lost their lives... You are now living in the soil of a friendly country. Thank you for all your service. There is no difference between the Ottomans and the Germans. We believe they do not like our love in this country of ours... you, the author, who wrote this without knowing anything except many great names, you are one who is living in our hearts and in our souls... You having lost these dear ones in this land, they have become our sons as well.

and the more you can learn about your specific needs. Once you understand what it is that you're trying to prove, then you can begin to think about the differences between the different types of evidence that you have available to you, as well as their strengths and weaknesses. Once you've got an understanding of that, then you can begin to plan your strategy. You'll need to consider what kind of evidence you want to introduce into court, and how best to present it.
